The KCAC

KANSAS COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC CONFERENCE is comprised of ten independent and church-related colleges and universities in Kansas — with a long and rich history of outstanding intercollegiate athletics. A KCAC brief historical sketch is included in this directory, along with a list of KCAC champions of recent years.

The NAIA

Introduction. The (NAIA) National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics is a completely autonomous association currently administering pro-grams of intercollegiate athletics for approximately 300 fully accredited colleges and universities of moderate enrollment. The fundamental tenet of the NAIA is that intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the total educational program of the institution. This belief is strongly reflected in the governing documents, activities and organizational structure of the Association.

History. Established in 1940 as the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball (NAIB), the Association has its roots in the 1937 small-college basketball tournament held in Kansas City, Missouri. The NAIA expanded to include other programs in 1952. The NAIA became the first intercollegiate sports governing body to provide championship opportunities for both men and women on August 1, 1980. The NAIA continues as a leader in the world of intercollegiate athletics. Throughout its history the NAIA has provided strong leadership for all aspects of intercollegiate sports. (Additional information relative to the history and philosophy of the NAIA can be found on pages i and iv of the NAIA Official Handbook. Website: <www.naia.org>.)

Philosophy. The purpose of the NAIA is to promote education and development of students through intercollegiate athletic participation. Member institutions, although varied and diverse, share a common commitment to high standards and the principle that athletes serve as an integral part of education.

The NAIA embraces the concept of the student and recognizes the importance of the individuality of each member institution, the value of the conference and regional structure, and the benefits of membership in a national association.

History: KANSAS COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference, commonly called "The Kansas Conference," is a prominent intercollegiate athletics conference comprised of ten outstanding independent or private institutions of higher education in the state.

Origins of the KCAC are traced to February 15, 1890, when the Kansas Intercollegiate Athletic Association resulted from the first successful attempt at organization among Kansas colleges, "to promote and regulate amateur intercollegiate athletics." At that time the association or conference included not only private universities and colleges but also Kansas Agriculture College (now KSU), Kansas University, and Washburn University. Football seems to have been the major sponsored sport, and Baker University won the championship for the first three or four years.

In about 1902 this early association became allied with the Kansas College Athletic Conference, a group which was the first to adopt a definite set of rules and regulations. It also promoted an annual Track and Field Meet which has continued yearly since, except for World War years. Basketball has been sponsored since 1904. Football was revived in 1907. Tennis began as early as 1912. Golf was added in 1923. By this time the name of the conference had been altered to the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference; it had grown to 17 college members and two allied members: Baker, Bethany, Bethel, College of Emporia, Fairmount (now WSU), Friends, Kansas Wesleyan, KSTC of Emporia (now ESU), KSTC of Hays (now FHSU), KSTC of Pittsburg (now PSU), McPherson, Ottawa, St. Benedict's (now Benedictine), St. Mary's (in Saint Mary, Kansas), Sterling (formerly Cooper College), Southwestern, and Washburn, and with St. John's and Kansas City University (Kansas) as allied members. Kansas University and Kansas Aggies had dropped out earlier to join other conferences. In 1923 the College of Emporia, KSTC of Emporia, KSTC of Hays, KSTC of Pittsburg, Wichita (formerly Fairmount), Southwestern, and Washburn withdrew to form the Central Conference.

The present legal entity comes from a reorganization of the conference when the predecessor Kansas Intercollegiate Athletic Conference formally disbanded on December 1, 1928, and a new conference was formed which again was called the Kansas College Athletic Conference. The members were Baker, Bethany, Kansas Wesleyan, McPherson, Ottawa, and St. Mary's colleges. At that time sportswriters quickly gave the KCAC league a nickname: the "Little Six," in contrast to the Big Six (which became Big Eight, now Big 12) which also was organized in 1928. St. Mary's College was discontinued in 1931. The College of Emporia returned in 1933, Bethel was re-admitted in 1939. Friends, a former member of the KIAC, was admitted in 1953. Sterling and Southwestern were approved for membership in 1958. In 1968 Tabor College and St. Mary of the Plains College were admitted to make twelve members in the conference, and the conference was organized into Southern and Northern divisions until 1970 — when Baker, College of Emporia, and Ottawa withdrew to join two separate Missouri-based conferences. The formal name, which had been changed to Kansas College Athletic Conference, was changed again in the mid-1970s to Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference. In 1975 women's intercollegiate athletics were incorporated into programs of the KCAC. In 1981 Ottawa was re-admitted, bringing the conference membership to 10. In 1992 St. Mary of the Plains College in Dodge City left the conference and closed. In 1999 Saint Mary College in Leavenworth (now University) was admitted with eligibility for championships beginning in the 2000-20001 academic year — and the conference returned to ten institutions.

The KCAC continues to be an all-Kansas conference. The KCAC is an affiliated conference of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics with headquarters in Olathe, Kansas. Today the KCAC sponsors conference intercollegiate athletics in football, volleyball, men's cross country, women's cross country, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's basketball, women's basketball, men's indoor track and field, women's indoor track and field, men's outdoor track and field, women's outdoor track and field, baseball, softball, golf, women's tennis, and men's tennis.

The KCAC is a widely respected conference governing intercollegiate athletics in cooperation with NAIA.
